AT THE END OF MY LEASH

When behavioural problems arise between a dog and its owner, it can place a strain on the relationship. That's when dog behaviourist, advocate and life coach Brad Pattison (Puppy SOS) comes in with his unique tough-love training skills as well as his endearing, humorous and take-no prisoners approach to ending conflict.

Each episode finds Pattison visiting the homes of problem dogs and their problem owners. While investigating the issues in the relationship that cause the bad behaviour, Pattison guides and educates each family on the changes that need to be made in order to bring harmony to the household.
